VOL. XXXIV. NO. 2

STANFORD, LINCOLN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JANUARY 5, 1912.

EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

WALLINS HELD OVER UNDER $1,000 BOND.

To Await Action of the Next Grand Jury on Cases—Judge Bailey Dismisses Young Man

Jake and Dud Wallin were held to await the action of the grand jury under $1,000 bond, by Judge Bailey, in the county court late Tuesday afternoon, at the conclusion of the examining trial, held as a result of the double killing of Lige Hoskins and Walter Wallin at Crab Orchard on the evening of December 23. The case against Ernest Wallin, the 18-year-old son of Dud Wallin, was dismissed, there being no evidence to connect him with the death of either man, although he had jumped upon Hoskins after latter had shot the lad's uncle Walter Wallin to death and wounded his father. Both the Wallins gave bond for their appearance before the February term of court.

The last witness who took the stand during the hearing Tuesday, was Ernest Wallin who is charged with killing Hoskins. He stated that he heard the shots in Riddle's place, and ran to the scene, and saw Hoskins backing out of the door, with young Ernest Wallin clinging to him and Hoskins beating the boy over the head with his pistol. He said that he then fired at Hoskins to save the boy's life, as he believed that Hoskins was trying to kill his nephew.

Although it was not charged that Dud Wallin had any hand in any of the killings, he was held over to the grand jury upon the charge that he was concerned in the first trouble which started in Riddle's place and caused the killing.

CRAB ORCHARD ODD FELLOWS TAKE ACTION

Declares Soft Drink Stands There a Nuisance as Result of Wallin—Hoskins Killing.

Crab Orchard, Ky., Dec. 30. A large attendance was present at the last regular meeting of Crab Orchard Odd Fellows. The late killing of Hoskins and Wallin was brought up and it was the unanimous vote of the lodge that the soft drink stands and pool room should be declared a public nuisance and a committee consisting of Rev. L. D. Gooch, T. W. Napier and G. B. Lyne, and A. H. Stigall was requested to go before the first regular meeting of the town trustees to make this complaint.

Mr. Wallin left a widow with four children while Hoskins, one with nine children.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Walter Jordan, M. G. Levy Sowder, V. G. M. Perkins, Secretary, J. B. Coram, Treasurer, and W. D. Ramsey, Host.

LINCOLN'S NEW MASTER COMMISSIONER

Hon. E. D. Pennington. Who will take office when Judge C. A. Hardin comes here to hold court in February. There is probably no more popular young man in the county than Eph Pennington.

A. B. FLORENCE, Mayor.

MASONS ENTERTAIN FOR GRAND MASTER.

GRAND MASTER DAVE JACKSON

The Masonic lodge of Stanford celebrated the New Year's birth in a delightfully attractive way. Dave Jackson, of London, the Grand Master, who is the chief officer of the order in the state, was present, and in the afternoon officiated in the conference of the Master's degree.

At the conclusion of the secret ceremonies, the Masons and their lady friends, making a company of one hundred and one, assembled at the dining hall of the Gover restaurant and enjoyed a delightful banquet, given in honor of the Grand Master. The handsome menu cards which were placed at each plate, on the front page bore the words:

Lincoln Lodge, No. 60, F. & A. M. Complimentary Banquet to Grand Master Dave Jackson. Stanford, Ky. Jan. 1, 1912.

This card, a handsome bristol folder, on the second page of which without comment, appeared the engraved likeness of the guest of honor; on its third page was spread the following:

MENU
OYSTER SOUP.
These bivalves, fresh from the briny deep.
Where the fabled mermaids grow.
Were rudely snatched from their ocean beds.
And, of course, they're in a stew.

TURKEY. CRANBERRY SAUCE.
CHICKEN SALAD.
BEATEN BISCUITS, POTATO CHIPS.
COFFEE.

A harmless drink for the dear old maids.
Which they delight to sup.
'Twill keep you awake when the speeches come.
So quaff you deep the cup.

ICE CREAM. CAKES.
'Then he will talk—good God—how he will talk.'

Before the guests were seated, an invocation was pronounced by Rev. D. M. Walker. During the courses, a most enjoyable musical program was rendered, and, after the plates had been removed, Mr. J. N. Saunders, as Toast Master, made a brief but happy address, in which he characterized the gathering as a family reunion of the great Masonic household, and gave a resume of the antiquity, the world-wide prevalence and the achievements of Masonry; after which he presented the guest of honor, who, as the representative of 38,000 affiliated Masons in Kentucky, delivered an address in which he touching related individual instances, in which the craft had enabled penniless orphans to attain places of usefulness, of honor and distinction. He told of the 399 bright faced fatherless children who are now being trained and provided for, together with 20 helpless widows in the Home at Louisville. He spoke also of the worthy members of the order, who in old age, becoming bereft of support, are tenderly cared for at the magnificent home in Shelby county. He referred to the lofty ideals and to the noble, manly qualities that the process of Masonry inculcate and endeavor to awaken. He urged the craft to personally appropriate, and in their lives, to evidence the benefits to be derived from the order, which in its power for good, for the betterment of the human family and for the uplift of all men, he characterized as second only to the church of the living God.

Following the Grand Master, a number of splendid responses to toasts were delivered by the following Masons: Rev. J. B. Jones, Congressman Harvey Helm, Rev. A. Higgins, J. Mort Rothwell, Rev. William Hopper, Rev. Jos. Ballou, Prof. J. W. Ireland and Rev. J. J. Dickey.

The speakers' list concluded, the company, all standing, joined in singing the long meter doxology and were by Rev. J. J. Dickey dismissed with a benediction.

Thus ended one of the most enjoyable entertainments which the Masons have extended to their friends since the great celebration held by them on the 24th of last June. The Masonic fraternity never indulges in the advertisement of its plans or its doings, but when it does things, nothing is ever done by halves.

FITCH AGAINST ANY SNAP ACTION

In This District Until Legislature Has Had Opportunity To Pass Direct Primary Law.

J. Norton Fitch, the Eighth Congressional District's member of the Democratic State Executive Committee, is heartily in favor of carrying out the party's platform pledges including the enactment of a direct primary law. He is also against any snap action in this district toward making the congressional nomination, until the General Assembly now in session has an opportunity to carry out the party's pledge.

Mr. Fitch so expressed himself emphatically to a representative of the Interior Journal, who was at Frankfort last Monday to see the Speakership fight. "My position in this regard has cost me many friends at home where Hon John H. Welch is a prospective candidate for Congress," said Mr. Fitch to the Interior Journal. "Of course, I am for Mr. Welch over anyone, but at the same time I believe that the democratic party's pledges to the people should be carried out, as enunciated in our recent platform, and until the legislature has had opportunity to do so, I am against snap action of any kind being taken in this congressional district."

This public announcement of Mr. Fitch's position will make him many warm friends over the district and over the state. The great majority of democrats feel as he does, that the party's platform must be carried into effect and that it is both unwise from a party standpoint and unfair to attempt to take snap action ahead of probable action by the General Assembly looking to the passage of the direct primary law.

STATE BANK BUYS ODD FELLOWS BUILDING.

Big Deal in Real Estate Closed First of New Year—All Local Banks Make Nice Showing.

Negotiations were concluded the first of the new year whereby the State Bank & Trust Company purchased from the Stanford Lodge of Odd Fellows, the handsome white brick building at the corner of Main and Depot streets, in one of the rooms of which the bank has its office the other store room being occupied by Cummins & Wearon. The price paid was not made public, is understood to be close to $12,000.

The rentals obtained from the storeroom, and upstairs offices and rooms makes the building a splendid investment to the bank, it is understood, and puts it in the position of earning a nice rate of interest on its own home. The State & Trust Co., has been growing rapidly within the past few months, and under the administration of Mr. M. B. Salin, who accepted the cashiership a few months ago, has been making rapid strides. This bank financed the sale of the big Taylor distillery and other properties recently, and its deposits have been growing at a healthy rate.

Stanford's two other banking institutions show a healthy condition at the close of business, and paid their usual dividends. The old reliable First National Bank paid all its expenses and taxes and its 3 per cent dividend and carried $1060 to undivided profit account.

The Lincoln County National Bank made a splendid showing for the term just ended, declaring a dividend of five per cent, amounting to $5,000, paying taxes and putting $500 to its undivided profit account.

The banks of Lincoln county all show up well in their last statements at the close of the year. Their deposits aggregate a total of $716,415.47.

The deposits as shown by their last statements are as follows:

Lincoln National $207,938 19
First National 151,640 47
National of Hustonville 93,213 61
State Bank & Trust Co. 75,499 70
Waynesburg Bank 59,829 35
Crab Orchard Bank 41,251 42
People's of Hustonville 38,684 91
McKinney Bank 34,645 84
Bank of Moreland 20,762 51

TOTAL $716,415 47

Governor McCreary this week appointed former State Senator George T. Farris, of Lancaster, Capital Police man. The place pays $60 a month and is a nice position with little work. His many friends will congratulate Senator Farris on landing the job.

Stanford's new councilmen were shown into office Monday Mayor A. B. Florence, all except C. C. Gooch, who has moved to Waynesburg. The vacancy in the council will be filled by the councilmen at their first meeting tonight. There is a strong tip out that popular Ed. Wilkinson, who has had much experience as a city father, will be named for the vacancy.

TOBACCO MARKET HOLDING UP WELL.

Kincaid Still Busy Buying And Asks Friends to Wait For Him—Some Recent Sales.

W. P. Kincaid the local buyer for the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse Company, has been riding almost night and day recently looking at different crops over Lincoln county and is buying a great deal of the weed. He asks his friends not to be impatient, assuring them that he will get to all as soon as he can and will buy everything in sight. Wagon loads of tobacco are being received daily at his big warehouse here.

Prices for tobacco seem to be holding up well, and the prospects are said to be very good for them to hold up as long as the market lasts. Some of the recent crops bought by Mr. Kincaid and the prices paid are as follows:
